

New Leader Coaching

Brave Leadership Starts with Daring Personal Development

Teach Reach Master
CONSULTING

With a lense for promoting equity, up and coming leaders will deep dive into personal values exercises, situational thought partnering, systems analysis, and more! Invest in the tools to allow your new leaders to enter new conversations and situations with equity, bravery and confidence.

Through small group or individual coaching and mentoring, participants will..

- Complete exercises to encourage analysis of personal values and leadership style in order to lead with integrity and confidence
- Practice application of leadership skills and strategies in role plays and real life situations
- Engage in Socratic conversation in order to support one another through new leadership situations
